SAT

Study Abroad Life has made a name for itself as provider of high-quality training for all major globally recognized standardized tests. We offer in-house coaching facility for college and graduate school tests such as, GRE, GMAT and SAT as well as English language proficiency tests such as, TOEFL, IELTS and PTE Academic. We put the student's best interest at the forefront. We maintain flexible and convenient schedules to suit students' needs, and small batch sizes which meet the standard international teacher-student ratio.

We have teams of certified and dedicated faculty members with wide teaching experience. Our faculty members undergo rigorous training and thorough evaluation processes from time to time to ensure that their subject knowledge and teaching practices continue to be first-rate. We also maintain an extensive repository of test preparation books, skill-building material and periodicals that is maintained and updated constantly. We are also in the process of creating our unique preparatory and test material.

HOW WILL STUDENT BENEFIT

University Visits: We have universities from across the globe visiting our offices all year round. On any given day, we host at least one university in one of our offices, where they hold discussions with our counsellors 'and meet with students.

Application Days: We hold World Application Days before each intake season, where universities visit our offices to meet with prospective applicants. Aspirants get first-hand information from university representatives and apply on the spot at these events.

Website Branding: We offer placeholders on our website and webpages for our partners to advertise. As an organisation representing a large portfolio of universities and with thousands of students visiting our website, SAL offers its partners a unique opportunity to extend their online presence on our webpages

Social Media Branding: Our social media team generates traffic to our website through various posts, blogposts, articles and advertisements on various platforms. We extend the benefit from our strategic and widespread social media presence to our partners.
